Section 4 - Policy Principles

(4) The Diocese is committed to attracting and retaining exceptional employees who embody the Diocese values and who strive to achieve the Diocese mission.

(5) The Diocese seeks to reward employees through remuneration and benefits frameworks and processes that are fair, equitable and transparently applied.

(6) The Diocese implements appropriate remuneration and benefits frameworks, programs and processes that may incorporate a mix of financial and non-financial benefits.

(7) Non-financial benefits may include:

- a. Opportunities for professional development;
- b. Flexible work arrangements;
- c. Health and wellness initiatives;
- d. Community engagement opportunities; and
- e. Other programs implemented by the Diocese from time to time

(8) On occasion, the Diocese may at its discretion establish or offer additional remuneration or benefits outside of existing frameworks. In these circumstances, the responsible decision maker must assess any potential impacts and risks and escalate the decision to the next level of leadership for review and approval, following consultation with People & Culture.

(9) To support sound decision making, remuneration and financial/non-financial benefits are determined in line with the following principles:

- a. Remuneration and benefits encourage, recognise and reward employees' contribution and contribute to the overall success of the Diocese.

- b. Remuneration and benefits comply with relevant legislation, industrial requirements, and obligations.
- c. Remuneration levels and conditions of employment are set according to the Diocese's strategic and operational requirements, remuneration frameworks, and in consideration of the broader economic environment in which the Diocese operates.
- d. Remuneration practices are based on principles of fairness and pay equity, including gender pay equity, ensuring equal pay for work of equal or comparable value through:
 - i. The consistent position classification and application of associated remuneration, as set out in the relevant Enterprise Agreements and Awards.
 - ii. The utilisation of AON Job Evaluation framework or similar methodology for positions not covered by an award or enterprise agreement.
- e. Remuneration practices are transparent, and remuneration information is maintained confidentially and in accordance with privacy requirements.
- f. Work value and position classification are relied upon as a core underpinning element for determining remuneration.
- g. Remuneration review processes are undertaken in a manner which:
 - i. Is fiscally responsible;
 - ii. Recognises, encourages, and rewards the contribution of employees;
 - iii. Takes into account relevant, internal relativities and the external environment and benchmarks; and
 - iv. Meets the obligations and requirements set out in relevant industrial instruments.
- h. Transparent remuneration processes are conducted in good faith and in accordance with the required levels of delegated authority.

Section 5 - Consequences of Breaching this Policy

(10) Any employee found to be in breach of this policy may be subject to disciplinary action, including where a serious breach occurs, dismissal.

Section 6 - Notations

(11) If there is any inconsistency between a policy document in existence before the commencement of this policy, and a policy document developed after the commencement of this policy, the later applies to the extent of the inconsistency.
